

Tremper Mountain Fire Tower Trail Map

Trails in the Catskills are built and maintained by the people who love and use them through volunteer service programs organized by the New York-New Jersey Trail Conference.

This map is provided as a courtesy by the Trail Conference and is adapted from Catskill Trails, a six-map set that shows all designated trails within the Catskill Park. Trail Conference maps and books are your guides to hundreds of miles of hiking paths in the New York-New Jersey region. Our full-featured maps are printed in color, show elevation contours, and are waterproof and tear-resistant. Look for them at outdoor stores, order online at www.nynjtc.org, or telephone 201.512.9348.

The New York-New Jersey Trail Conference is a nonprofit organization that partners with parks and mobilizes thousands of hard-working volunteers who create, maintain, and protect 2,000 miles of public trails in the region.

A climb back in time

In another era, observers scanned the mountains from these fire towers, looking for signs of forest fires. Today, New York state uses more modern methods, but the towers now offer unparalleled 360-degree views of the Catskill Mountains and beyond for hikers.

Hardworking volunteer groups, together with the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation and nonprofit organizations including the Catskill Center, completed restoration of the towers in 2001, making them ready for a new role and new visitors.

Visit. Volunteer. Learn.

Each summer, thousands of people from all over the world visit the towers to enjoy the awesome beauty and splendor of their surroundings. Volunteer interpreters welcome them, sharing the history and lore of the towers and mountains.

Tremper Fire Tower

Town of Shandaken – Elevation 2,740 feet

This tower is believed to be the original structure built circa 1917 and was used for fire observation until 1971. The 47-foot-high tower offers a spectacular 360-degree view that includes the Burroughs Range, the Skytop Tower at Mohonk Preserve, and the v-shaped Stony Clove and Deep Notches that give a glimpse of what is behind the mountains that comprise the Devil's Path. Timber rattlesnakes are present in the very rocky areas on Tremper, so be sure to be on the lookout. The tower was re-opened on June 9, 2001 with a crowd on hand for the dedication and ceremony. Today, the tower is staffed by volunteers on weekends throughout the summer.

Directions:

Take the red marked Phoenicia Trail from the trailhead parking on Old Route 28 to the Fire Tower and return via the same trail for a 3.4 mile, moderately-difficult hike. Visit hikes.nynjtc.org for more detailed trail and driving directions.
