

Trail Status

Temporary trail closures in portions of Bear Mountain and Harriman State Parks due to July 2023 storm damage

Popolopen Torne loop trail is open.

Brooks Lake loop trail is open.

Hessian Lake loop trail is open.

A.T. thru-hikers can follow the yellow-highlighted route to detour around Bear Mountain.

Ramapo-Dunderberg Trail and portions of the Timp-Torne Trail and 1777 Trail are now open.

Red Cross Trail and portions of the 1779 Trail and Suffern-Bear Mountain Trail are now open.

Portions of Bear Mountain and Harriman State Parks remain closed as of early October (purple shading) due to significant damage from an extreme rainfall event in July.

Shaded areas are closed to the public and hiking is not permitted with the exception of trails shown as red lines on the map.

Appalachian Trail thru-hikers can follow the yellow-highlighted route to detour around Bear Mountain.

Be aware additional road and parking area closures may exist in this area.

For your safety, please stay on the marked trail to avoid active military training exercises.

- Closed trails (purple line)
- Closed parking (red slash in circle)
- Maintained trails (red line)
- Trail color: (B) Blue, (O) Orange, (R) Red, (W) White, (Y) Yellow, (1777) Red (1777), (1779) Blue (1779)
- Appalachian Trail: (A) White
- Parking (lot, roadside): (P) (P)