

Long Distance Trails Crew

Rocks being used for the rehabilitation of the NY Long Path on Tallman Mountain

The New York-New Jersey Trail Conference's Long Distance Trails Crew (LDTCC) is an all-volunteer group of men and women dedicated to the construction and rehabilitation of the Appalachian Trail, the New York Long Path, and other trails in NY & NJ, west of the Hudson River and as a crew, we have a great time working together. Our experienced crew leaders are eager to teach volunteers of all abilities, the skills needed to build trails

No experience necessary

Contact us today: crew@LongDistanceTrailsCrew.org

New York - New Jersey Trail Conference
Connecting People with Nature since 1920

We provide on-site training. Volunteers learn the basics of trail planning and construction, work site safety, material selection, movement and placement of rock, use of crushed stone and mineral soil, principals of drainage, and more.

You'll find us building trails every other weekend (Friday/Saturday/Sunday) from March till December. Come out and join us, you'll be glad you did.

See our work on the Appalachian Trail, the New York Long Path, and other trails on our website:

www.LongDistanceTrailsCrew.org

Interested? Send an email to:
crew@longdistancetrailscrew.org

